Bethel Fire answers the call

THE BETHEL FIRE DEPARTMENT was one of eleven teams to race in Sunday's annual Firefighters' Race at Sunday River Ski Resort. The Auburn F.D. team took first place, followed by Lewis-

Bill now in Legislature could help fund Rt. 2 snowmobile bridge

State House hearing tomorrow

By REBECCA ZICARELLI

A bill currently working its way through the Maine Legislature would fund construction of a recreational bridge across of the Androscoggin River in Bethel.

The bill, LD 653, calls for issuing bonds totaling $2.9 million to provide funds for snowmobile crossings, and boating and fishing access improvements to highway bridges.

Of the total bond amount, $2.1 million would be used for multi-use recreational bridges. According to Scott Ramsey, of the Bureau of Parks and Land Management, a crossing in Bethel is third on a list of priority projects.

First priority is the Androscoggin crossing in Canton on Route 140. This bridge, the route of ITS 89, is scheduled to be rebuilt within the next two years. Having adequate snowmobile access included in reconstruction bumped the project to the top of the list.

Second priority is The Forks on Route 201, across the Kennebec. This bridge is similar to the situation in Bethel. It is a major river crossing for snowmobiles in the winter. During the summer, crowds of people stand on the bridge, watching rafting trips. Route 201, like Route 2, has heavy truck traffic and provides access to a major recreational area.

The Legislature's Joint Standing Appropriations Committee will hold a hearing on the bill tomorrow (Friday, March 23) at 1 p.m. in room 228 at the State House.

The bill, along with the committee's recommendation, would then proceed to the floors of the House and Senate. If passed in both chambers, it would then go to Governor King for signing. If it is signed, it will appear on the November ballot.

Bethel town manager recommends abolishing Board of Assessors

But members of that board argue they serve a necessary purpose

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Town Manager Scott Cole told the Bethel selectmen this week that he thinks the town's Board of Assessors serves little purpose and should be dissolved. Its responsibilities, Cole said, could be easily assumed by the selectmen themselves.

But members of the assessing board disagree, arguing that their responsibilities were real, and ones which few other people, including selectmen, were eager to shoulder.

Cole presented his recommendation at the selectmen's regular meeting Monday.

"I think that we could increase overall efficiency in the municipal government by merging the legal responsibilities of the assessors back into the Board of Selectmen," he said.

"I want to emphasize, and I have all along, that this has nothing to do with anyone on the Board of Assessors; it has to do with making the system run a little bit better," he said. "It's not a huge efficiency issue by itself, but on the other hand if we want to optimize the use of our resources in terms of time, tax money and all the incidentals, I think this is something that ought to be done."

"Now that there are contracted assessing agents working for the town of Bethel, by in large the actual assessing function is being done by professionals. The Board of Assessors here serves as an oversight body. The same function could happen here with the Board of Selectmen — it does in most towns these days."

Cole contended that the Board of Assessors currently functions mostly as a "rubber stamp." "The substantive discussion is minimal. The lion's share of the work is done by the contracted agents," he said.

Four members of the Board of Assessors (there are five in all) were present at Monday's meeting, in part for an earlier presentation on the state valuation process. They took a different view of the matter.

The members had voted unanimously "to oppose this decision by the town manager," said Stan Howe, chairman of the Board of Assessors. (Cole disputes this.)

Fellow board member John Head sought to refute a number of the reasons listed by Cole for dissolving the board.

Gilead Fire, Highway departments will seek more space

By ALISON ALOISIO

Should Gilead build a new fire station, or a new town garage?

Selectmen are currently working on a recommendation for one or the other. Voters will make their choice at next week's Town Meeting.

The Fire and Highway departments share the current building, located near the town hall just off Route 2, and quarters there are cramped. "We need space really bad," said Fire Chief Ken Cole.

Of the Fire Department's five trucks, three are parked outside year-round because they won't fit in the station. A plow truck, plows and a loader are also housed in the building.

Two rescue vehicles and a forestry truck are parked outside. The rescue vehicles are of particular concern.

"In the winter they need to start," Cole said. In addition, the rescue crew currently has to scrape the

Town Meetings

Fire truck, street lights top W'stock warrant

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock voters will decide at Monday's Town Meeting whether to give the Fire Department a new pumper truck. They will also decide whether to take away 26 streetlights.

If all 64 articles on the warrant are approved, the town would have a total municipal appropriation of $703,299. Last year's appropriation was $683,693.

With county taxes and estimated school share added, the expected amount to be collected from taxes is $935,831, up from $887,941. The mill rate would then increase from $13.78 to $13.93 per thousand.

The cost of a new pumper truck is approximately $190,000, according to selectmen.

Town officials are proposing to raise $60,000 this year for the Fire Truck Reserve Account, to go with $60,000 already in the account. The usual yearly contribution to the account is $15,000. They are recommending the remaining $70,000 be taken from the fund balance (surplus), rather than taking out a loan.

"We could use our own money and pay ourselves back next year," said Town Manager Vern Maxfield, by raising money for surplus at the 2002 Town Meeting.

The selectmen said that Fire Chief Bill Seames told them he does not really need the truck until

Healthy Upton surplus available to cut taxes

By ALISON ALOISIO

Upton's municipal budget is up a little from last year, but thanks to a healthy surplus account, the tax rate should go down.

Voters will consider a $122,700 budget at next Thursday's Town Meeting.

Selectman Richard LeComte said $35,000 from surplus will be used toward expenses, if townspeople approve all the budget items. The town would then raise $87,000 in taxes, compared to $92,000 last year.

The current tax rate is $10.68, per thousand dollars of valuation. LeComte has not yet calculated the 2001 projected rate, but he said it should drop.

The local share of the school budget is $49,000, up from 2000's $43,000. There were funds left over from last year in that account, said LeComte. They will be used toward this year's costs. The total school budget is $79,000.

Upton's county tax is also up. The town will pay $8,400 this year, compared to $7,900 last year, LeComte said.

There are no significant ups or downs in regular town accounts, according to Walter Stanczyk, town clerk. "It's mostly nuts and bolts," he said. The Town Office Account, proposed at $23,000, is up about $3,000 due to the purchase of a new copier.

In elections for municipal officers, selectman Earl Largesse and school committee member Marie Aron, both incumbents, are expected to run unopposed for their seats. Stanczyk, who serves as treasurer and tax collector in addition to clerk, will be up again for the yearly election to the positions of clerk, tax collector and treasurer.

The Town Meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Schoolhouse.

WE SHOULD EXPECT MORE

To the Editor:

I like Bob Everett's comment about how he feels regarding input from his constituents, "I've had people tell me reasons (regarding why a high percentage of Bethel people seem to feel that putting subsidized housing in Bethel Station is a bad idea) and I just go 'yeah, yeah, yeah,' and let it go at that."

The people of Bethel have the right to expect their selectmen not only to listen but to try to interpret their wishes and to act upon them. Mr. Everett has decided on his own that the project would be good for the town and therefore he can just let the wishes of the townspeople "go at that."

Dutch Dresser is right. Bethel Station can be a very valuable addition to this town in its role of a high visibility business area. The fact that it didn't grow at the rate that the town expected is no one's fault and to ruin it simply because "we've got nothing down there," is shortsighted. Subsidized housing is needed. Making it the focal point of our town is not.

Of course the townspeople can now take the fight into their own hands. The problem is we shouldn't have to. We thought we had people to represent our needs.

MHS SKI-A-THON THANKS

To the Editor:

Maine Handicapped Skiing just broke its fundraising record with $272,900 for the 16th annual Ski-A-Thon held last Saturday, March 17, at Sunday River Ski Resort. It couldn't have been done without the incredible support of Maine businesses and the hundreds of volunteers, MHS participants and supporters of Maine Handicapped Skiing. Thank you.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Citizen welcomes letters to the editor. We hope our readers will regard the Opinion Page of the newspaper as a public forum for discussing any topic they believe to be of interest to the community.

Insofar as possible, we attempt to publish letters without alteration, but we do reserve the right to edit for length, libel, taste and readability.

We do not knowingly publish letters that have been submitted to other newspapers, letters to third parties, letters that endorse products, or letters that are unsigned. These guidelines will be waived, however, when doing so is deemed to be in the community's interest.

In situations where the letter writer has a political, economic, familial or other relationship that could be perceived as bearing on the topic addressed in the letter, we strongly suggest the writer make that relationship known in the text of the letter or after their signature.

In cases where the writer chooses not to do so, the editor reserves the right to make the relationship known.

The decision as to whether a given relationship is in fact relevant shall lie solely with the editor. In questionable cases we will disclose the relationship and allow our readers to judge the relevance for themselves.

When writing, please include your full name, signature, address and telephone number (so that we may verify authorship).

The deadline for letters to the editor is 4:30 p.m. Monday. Letters submitted after that deadline will be considered for publication when circumstances permit.

NOT FOR THE FIRST TIME—The Route 2 bridge over the Pleasant River in West Bethel has proven the undoing of yet another tractor trailer. Last week the driver of a rig owned by Currier, Inc. of Gorham, N.H., lost control and ended up straddling the bridge. No one was injured in the accident, but ruptured fuel tanks spilled diesel fuel onto the river ice. The Maine DEP estimates that 100 to 125 of the 150 gallons that were spilled were later recovered. ROAD WORK PLANNED—In a joint effort this summer by the U.S. Forest Service and the town of Bethel, a low, flood-prone section of the Flat Road in West Bethel will be raised and rebuilt. The section of road involved is 1.35 miles long and begins approximately 2.5 miles in from Route 2, near the bridge over the East Branch of the Pleasant River. Just beyond the start of the section to be rebuilt the Flat Road intersects with the Meadow Brook Bridge Road and paving of the Flat Road ceases. Funding for the project — up to $160,000 — will come from the federal Forest Highways Program. Engineering for the project, and contract administration will be provided by the U.S. Forest Service. Bethel will contribute up to $15,000 to cover the cost of repaving the Flat and Meadow Brook roads after they are torn up and reconstructed. Paving on the Flat Road will not be extended further, but the rebuilt section, in addition to being approximately two feet higher than the present road surface, will have an underlay of geotextile fabric, extensive new ditching, drainage and culvert work, and a new six-inch surface of inch-and-a-half gravel. Work on the project is scheduled to begin in early June, according to U.S.F.S. civil engineer, J. Silvester, who will be managing the project. Jack Cross Excavation of Bethel was the successful bidder on the project, at $103,599. Silvester said.

Assessors

As to the charge that substantive discussion on the board were rare, Head said: "We examine in great detail all requests for supplemental taxation, all abatements, and we attend hearings when our decisions are appealed."

Head said, for example, that he has been in front of the county commissioners three times on appeal matters.

And, he said, "I kind of resist the categorization of being rubber stamps. We have unhappy taxpayers appear in front of us on a continuing basis."

Cole contended that eliminating the board would result in savings in a number of areas, including advertising, photocopying, phone calls, mailings and staff support time.

He also argued that the time of the assessors' meeting, on weekday mornings, was inconvenient for many taxpayers.

Head, again, thought otherwise, arguing that the amounts of money involved were small, and that meetings held during the day are more convenient for taxpayers than those held in the evening.

And, he said, "If there were a groundswell that wanted to have the meetings in the evening, we'd certainly have them in the evenings."

He also noted that the primary reason the separate assessing board was formed was that "a lot of selectmen don't want to be assessors. If you wanted to be a selectman and an assessor, you'd have to take out two sets of papers," he noted.

"And we found the people who wanted to be selectmen were taking out selectmen-only papers and did not want to take out assessors papers."

Selectman Reggie Brown pointed to the evolution of state training requirements as a large factor in the unwillingness of selectman candidates to also run for assessor.

"It used to be just anybody went out and assessed," he said, "then all of a sudden the state said you had to have some kind of qualification."

"That's the time your selectmen got out of it," Brown said, "because they just didn't have time to do all the courses and do the assessing."

The selectmen eventually voted to table the matter for consideration at a later date.

The five current members of the Board of Assessors are, in addition to Head and Howe, Ernest Angevine, Arlan Jodrey and David Luxton.

next year. But, they said, they expect the price of the vehicle to go up soon, and it can take up to a year for a truck to be delivered. If it is ordered now, the price can likely be locked in, they said.

"I see no sense in putting it off til next year," said selectman Leon Poland.

The issue of the $70,000 will be voted on as article 35a on the warrant. The article does not appear in the town report, but is on the warrant currently posted around town.

To light or not to light

The proposed removal of street lights, primarily in more remote areas of town, is expected to generate plenty of discussion. A committee studied the question earlier this year, following several years of complaints from residents about lighting costs.

The committee is recommending removal in cases where there is limited pedestrian traffic or overlap of lights. About 20 residents who attended a February hearing on the issue voiced opposition to the plan.

Also proposed is the addition of three lights, at the following locations: the intersection of Andrews, Perkins Valley, Koskela and Andrews Hill roads; across Route 26 from the roadside Spring; and on Route 232 at the intersection with Cushman Hill Road.

Townpeople will also consider purchasing a computerized electronic automobile registration system for the Town Office at a cost of $6,500. The system, said Town Manager Vern Maxfield, would be a big timesaver. Many towns use the system, he said. Area towns that have them include Buckfield, Norway and Paris.

Voters will also decide whether to adopt a policy authorizing a fine for building without a permit. The amount would be 10 times the amount the permit would have been.

The Planning Board is requesting the policy. Maxfield said there has not been a lot of abuse of the permit system in the past, but there have been a few more cases recently. The violations generally involve small building projects, including additions and decks.

Another planning issue is a request to reduce the setback from 10 feet to five in road frontage areas along Route 26 in Bryant Pond Village. A resident wants to build a porch on his house, said Maxfield, and the porch would reach two feet into the current setback area. Selectmen oppose the change, but agreed to let voters settle it.

In town elections, Selectman Leon Poland and School Director Janet Brown are running again. Maxfield said he does not know of other candidates for the positions. Rosalee Poland is also running, apparently unopposed, for her seat on the library Board of Trustees. Lyle Wiggin is not running for his trustee seat again. Marta Clement is seeking the position.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. at the Woodstock Elementary School.

ANOTHER CASUALTY—This garage on Mason Street in Bethel, formerly owned by Larry Withey, is yet another structural victim of the winter's heavy snows. As The Citizen went to press Wednesday afternoon, forecasters were predicting another foot of heavy, wet snow. (Photo by Alison Aloisio)

Wight reappointed

AUGUSTA—The state Senate Tuesday confirmed Steve Wight's reappointment to the Land Use Regulation Commission, by a vote of 27-6. Wight's reappointment had been strongly opposed by the Sportsmen's Alliance of Maine, because of his vote against establishing a boat launch at St. John's Bridge along the Allagash River. (The photo at the top of the front page shows Wight leaving this month's Newry Town Meeting.)

Andover men killed in accident

RUMFORD—Two Andover men died Tuesday when their car pulled in front of a loaded pulp truck on Route 2. Merton Perkins, 82, died instantly when the truck hit his 1993 Buick on the driver's side. Cecil Abbott, 87, a passenger in the car, was taken by LifeFlight helicopter to Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston, where he died. The vehicle was leaving McDonald's restaurant when it crossed in front of the eastbound trailer truck. It was pushed about 120 feet onto the property of the Big Apple store, located next to the restaurant. The driver of the truck, Jean Theroux, 66, was not injured.

Sewer design work awarded

BETHEL—A Portsmouth, N.H. company has been chosen to design few sewer mains on Evergreen and Paradise roads. Weston & Sampson Co. will design about a mile's length of line, and will also redesign storm drainage at the roads' intersection as part of the $250,000 reconstruction project. The construction portion is expected to go out to bid in May or June, with the work taking place in late summer.

Wardens find stuck snowmobiler

WATERFORD—Manning Emery, 61, of South Portland spent half a night in the woods March 9 after getting his snowmobile stuck near the Yaggar Road in Waterford. Emery said he and companion John Berry were headed back to Oxford after a day trip when they turned around to go back to another trail. When Emery turned, his sled became buried in waist deep snow. Berry traveled about a mile before realizing Emery was not behind him, and was not able to locate the trail they had taken. He returned to Oxford, and finding Emery had not returned, then called the Warden Service. Wardens began looking for the lost snowmobiler about 9 p.m. Emery stayed with his machine, walking around to stay warm. At about 2 a.m., he heard the wardens' machines coming, and walked to a power line to meet them. He was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital as a precaution. Emery said he was dressed warmly and the weather was mild. In the future, however, he said he plans to be better prepared by carrying matches, a flashlight, blanket and a small handsaw to cut brush for a fire.

Ski-a-Thon a success

NEWRY—The 16th annual Maine Handicapped Skiing Ski-a-Thon raised more than $272,900 Saturday. The event, held at Sunday River Ski Resort, is MHS's biggest one-day fundraiser. More than 125 people, including some of MHS's more advanced students, participated in the event. New this year was an obstacle course. Union Oil, the top fundraising team, raised a total of $13,167. Because of a rule that the top team can only win the grand prize once every three years, this year's second place team, the Snow Snakes ($12,460) won a week's ski vacation to The Canyons. Craig Cooper was the top individual fundraiser at $8,925, followed by 12-year-old Maggie Wauters ($7,515), an MHS student for seven seasons. Sue O'Dell and Lorrie Moeh won first and second prize in the cross-country ski category.

Snowmobiler killed

BROWNFIELD—A Fryeburg man was killed when his snowmobile missed a turn on a trail and crashed, according to the Maine Warden Service. Timothy Potwin, 27, was found dead Friday evening after his mother reported him missing, but the crash apparently occurred Thursday night, Lt. Bill Allen said. "He was trying to make a 90-degree turn," Allen said. "It appears that he missed the turn and shot out over an embankment. Allen said speed and alcohol appeared to be factors in the crash. Potwin had been riding with friends, but they became separated. The death raises this season's snowmobile fatality toll in Maine to 11, one short of the record.

Local rescue team trains

BAXTER STATE PARK—The Mahoosuc Mountain Rescue Team recently completed a one-week stay at Chimney Pond on Mt. Katahdin. Eight members of the team assisted park personnel and conducted exercises in avalanche awareness. The team members also practiced technical rock- and ice-climbing skills and winter search and rescue.

Winsor to run

NORWAY—State Rep. Tom Winsor (R-Norway) announced Monday he will seek the Republican nomination for the State Senate District 25 seat being vacated by Sen. Rick Bennett. Bennett has announced he will give up his Senate seat to run for the U.S. Congress in 2002. Winsor is completing his fourth term at the State House. He has been self-employed in the real estate business for more than 30 years.

DigSafe seminar offered

BETHEL—A seminar on the Dig Safe law and Oxford Telecom buried plant policy will take place March 29 at the Telstar High School lecture hall. Contractors, municipal departments and others will have the opportunity to meet locate technicians from Oxford Telecom who respond to DigSafe requests. For more information contact Steve Perry at 336-9911, ext. 126.

Woman killed by ice

SOUTH BERWICK—A South Berwick woman was killed by a slab of ice that slid from the roof of her home and struck her, according to police. Patricia Comer, 51, was shoveling her deck Friday afternoon when the six-inch-thick slab hit her. Fire Chief George Gorman estimated the ice fell 20 to 25 feet from the peak of the two-story home.

Nutting to run for Congress

LEEDS—State Sen. John Nutting (D-Leeds) announced he is a candidate for Maine's Second Congressional District seat in 2002. Nutting served in the Maine House of Representatives from 1986 to 1992 and has been in the Senate since 1996. Nutting said if elected, he would work to extend the interstate highway to Fort Kent, procure funding for federal special education laws, end mercury air pollution coming into the state from the Midwest, protect Maine manufacturing and agricultural sectors from unfair trade agreements, work to cut the size of federal government, and continue the reduction of the national

Get your fish and shrubs

OXFORD—The Oxford County Soil & Water Conservation District is selling trees, shrubs and trout. Orders for trees and shrubs can be placed until April 4 by calling 743-5789, ext. 3, or at the office at 1570 Main Street. Pick up date is May 5 at Crystal Spring Farm in Oxford. Order forms and stocking permits for trout are also available at the SWCD office. Orders must be received by May 11. The trout will be available at the office May 18. Those purchasing fish must have permit in hand when they pick them up.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Foiled again

At 8:15 p.m. on March 16 the officer was at a store and recognized a subject from a previous alcohol-related incident. The subject, a minor, purchased alcohol. The officer confiscated it, along with a license used in the purchase. Matthew S. Pitura, 19, of East Hartford, Conn. was arrested.

Saturday, March 17

At 3:12 p.m. police were advised of a two-car, head-on accident on the East Bethel Road. The officer responded to the scene. One person was transported by Rescue for minor injuries. Three others were treated at the scene.

At 1 a.m. a subject was stopped on Route 2 for failing to dim headlights. The officer smelled intoxicating liquor. The driver did not pass field sobriety tests, and was then given a breath test. William H. Thompson, 39, of Rollinsford, N.H., was summonsed for OUI.

At 11:30 p.m. police assisted State Police with an ongoing problem at an Albany residence. Six subjects were taken into custody, and the officer transported three to the Oxford County Jail.

At 10:08 a.m. police observed an unregistered vehicle operating on the Parkway. Dawn Gross, 46, was summonsed for operating an unregistered motor vehicle.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summon, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Gilead

Bridge

Bob Meyers, of the Maine Snowmobile Association (MSA), said the bill came out of a committee studying the equity of gas tax allocations for snowmobiles, boats, and ATVs.

"We were looking at a variety of issues," Meyers said, "and safety sticks out there."

He said he believed there is enough money in the bill to fund the top three projects.

Meyers said he hopes the bill is rolled into another bill, LD 1504, which would fund DOT construction.

This bill currently asks for issuing bonds totaling $61 million. Major highway construction bonds are usually passed by voters, while the small bonds are sometimes denied.

If LD 653 does make it to the November ballot and passes, Meyers was unsure when construction would actually take place in Bethel.

"Construction depends on DOT," he said. "How to approach the problem varies from bridge to bridge. They will have to do the engineering and then schedule the work. And DOT time is not necessarily the same as the time the rest of us are on."

Meyers said it is important for interested citizens to attend the Appropriations Committee hearing Friday. The MSA will hold a meeting on the bill before the hearing, and anyone is welcome. It will be at noon at the MSA office, 7 Noyes Street, in Augusta.

Local residents interested in attending the MSA meeting and the hearing can contact Rocky Freda for more information and car pooling at 824-7533.

windshields and sometimes shovel snow before going on a call. The firefighters must also do maintenance work on the vehicles outside, he said.

Cole also said his department has been getting a growing number of calls in recent years, making an efficient station more important. "It used to be we had five or 10 calls a year. Now it's 25 or 30," he said.

A lot of those are tractor trailer and car rollovers on Route 2, which has several sharp curves in Gilead.

The town itself is also growing, Cole said. "New houses are going in pretty steady," he said.

The choices

One of the town's options is to simply build a new fire station. It would be located near the transfer station, which is behind the Fire Station toward the Androscoggin River.

A "turnkey" plan would cost about $180,000, Cole said. The 50-by-90-square-foot station would have three large doors and could house six fire vehicles. It would include a dispatch center, training room, small kitchen, office and two bathrooms with showers. The building would also be made available for use by other community members and organizations.

The stick-built structure would probably have vinyl siding to keep it as maintenance-free as possible, he said.

Cole said using town equipment to do the site work could drop the cost between $10,000 and $20,000.

The other option is to build a new building for the Highway Department. The structure would be placed near the sand/salt pile, which is also in the vicinity of the transfer station. The current fire/highway building could then be expanded for the Fire Department.

The second option would cost roughly the same amount of money, Cole said.

An advantage of option two, he said, is that both buildings would be in ideal locations for their usage. It makes sense, he said, to place the highway building near the sand/salt pile and leave the Fire Station in its current central location.

"I could live with either, as long as we get more space," he said.

Harry Taylor, Gilead's road commissioner, favors building the highway structure and giving the old building to the Fire Department.

"If I moved out, they'd have ample room," he said, and there would also be the possibility of expanding later.

Cole said because interest rates are low and the price of building materials is down, now is a good time to build, whatever the choice of structure.

Beverly Corriveau, the town's administrative assistant, said selectmen are currently researching financing options. She said she expects the board will have a recommendation for a building plan at the meeting.

The plans for the proposed Fire Station are available for public inspection at Corriveau's home office, and will also be on display at the Town Meeting. Plans for a town garage are still sketchy, she said.

The town last year finished paying off two loans, one for a fire truck and one for a highway truck.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston

Ronald Willard of Springfield, Va., a native of Bethel and North Woodstock, recently served as a volunteer at the 2001 Special Olympics World Winter Games held in Anchorage, Alaska. Ronald has coached speed skating for 15 years with Virginia Special Olympics and enjoyed his first trip to the "last frontier." About 2,800 athletes from 80 countries and 5,000 volunteers, mostly from Alaska, attended the winter games from March 4 to 13.

Dottie Bean will be at Norway Rehab Center, Marion Street, Norway 04268 for about three weeks. Cards, notes, phone calls (743-9973) would be greatly appreciated while she is there and prior to surgery, tentatively scheduled for the 11th of April.

Amy Davis attended the 14th annual Lisbon High School Music Nite on the 14th. Her granddaughter, Emily White, performed in both the band and chorus.

"The girls" celebrated Mary Keniston's 80th birthday by having lunch at the Red Top. Present at this occasion were Arlene Brown, Ginny Hutchins, Kay McMillin and Ginny Keniston.

Jonathan Parsons, a fifth-grade student, recently had a piece of his artwork displayed at the Portland Museum of Art, as part of Youth Art Month.

Bud and Mary Paine were in Keene, N.H., over the weekend. They helped their son, Dick, celebrate his birthday at a family gathering.

The new garage adjoining the former Albert Grover house on Mason Street collapsed under a load of snow at some time over the weekend.

Maggie Davis conducted the service at West Parish Congregational Church last Sunday in the absence of the Revs. Jean and Brendon Bass. Brian and Dan Zinchuk should have been recognized as helping the previous Sunday.

Carol Jordan is at home recuperating from recent surgery at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

The Bethel House

by Ruth Cummings

Ginny Walker and I attended the supper at the new dining hall at Gould that was given for those that talked with members of the sophomore class. The supper was March 8 and I was told that only three of those that talked with the sophomores on March 4th were not able to make it.

The desserts were made from some of the recipes we took when we went to talk to the kids. My recipe for my Aunt Mabel's lemon sponge pie was used and so was Ginny's for chocolate cake. A lot of different desserts were there. It was a lovely supper and we were made to feel welcome.

Two of the ones we met with here on March 4, Anthony Liberti and Aaron Hughes, ate at the same table as Ginny and I, and Laura Smith, a teacher, and Benji also ate at our table. I understand that Aaron went to his home in New York on Friday.

One thing Ginny and I did not mention to our group was how they used to harvest ice and pack it in sawdust in a building known as the ice house and folks would use it in an old ice chest in summer — the ice was on top, a place for food and then a drip pan underneath to catch the water when the ice melted. They lifted these ice cakes with big tongs known as ice tongs.

Anthony and Aaron gave Ginny and I each a little booklet they had made with some of the things we had told them in it. I also had a pin that said Ruth and Ginny on it. Thanks boys.

Thank you, JC, of Warwick, N.Y., for the nice letter. So glad that you enjoy my column.

Pastor Rick found the words and music to a lovely hymn that we are now singing in church, "Let Your Candle Light the World."

Lindley Wieden and Doug Grover chopped the ice off the drain in the parking lot.

Dot Bean is at Norway Rehab on Marion Avenue in Norway. She is doing better but does not expect to go for her knee replacement until April 11.

Carroll, Becky and Ginny all visited me at my apartment Friday evening and sang for me.

The fact that so many are finding it hard to find a place to put their snow reminded me of what one person said when we had a lot of snow one other winter. His road was plowed but he apparently did not think it was very good, as he said if he had a Rhode Island red rooster hitched to a dustpan he could have done a better job.

Sandra Clemens and her husband, Mike, also Petu Hill, visited with Janice Hill on Saturday. It was Sandra's birthday and Janice invited Cack, Ginny, Becky and I in for cake and ice cream.

Nanna Wight stopped by my apartment on her way to work Friday and left me a lot of stamps for missionaries.

A huge chunk of ice broke loose from the eaves of the Bethel House on the side of Don and Eleanor Brooks' on March 10 at about 7 p.m. It shook the whole house.

"Turn your eyes upon Jesus, look full in His wonderful face, and the things of this earth will grow strangely dim in the light of His glory and grace."

Pastor Rick's message on Sunday was "The Joy of Furthering the Gospel." Cathy Hoy was at the piano, Peggy Mowery played the flute and Pastor Rick played his guitar. Laura Maxfield had a special musical selection. A video was shown on missions.

We will be having Messeanic Passover on the evening of Palm Sunday, April 8.

Ronnie and Christine Hanscom visited Kelsie Hanscom at Stephens Memorial Hospital. She is a surgical patient there.

Liz Perry, our manager, and Cecile Payette, coordinator, were at the Bethel House on Monday. Some of the residents, namely Janice Hill, Cack Bean, Ginny Walker, Becky Ricker, Olive Williams, Raymond Swan, Vivian Chase and Ruth Cummings, also Lindley Wieden and Eleanor Brooks were there for a meeting. The greatest concern was the ice and snow on the roof. Liz finally told Doug Grover to tend to the removal of the snow and ice. Some great chunks of ice and lots of snow had already come off on the side next to Don and Eleanor Brooks' house. Liz said she did not realize it was that bad, and I said we had called down many times about it. She just was not given the messages or never returned our calls.

Now Liz plans to be up the last Friday of the month. This is the second time she has been here this year.

Liz and Cecile were in to see me in my apartment just before leaving back for Biddeford.

You folks that say there is no news in the paper; when you make news let the correspondent know and they would be glad to put it in.

Bea Bean visited with her sister, Olive Williams, recently.

Doug Grover is to start removal of ice and snow today. I feel we did accomplish a lot with our meeting.

Doug Grover and a helper were at the Bethel House again on Tuesday and Wednesday trying to get the snow and ice from the roof.

Cathy Newell stopped by Monday and left me a book to read.

Elaine Dresser was at the Bethel House on Tuesday with treats for everyone. She brought chocolate cherry cake this time.

Vada made my day on March 14. It was 59 years ago Arthur and I were married and she called me from St. Petersburg, Fla. She is coming home on the 25th.

Bea and Cack were in to visit me on Wednesday.

Girl Scout cookies were delivered at the Bethel House on Wednesday.

East Bethel

by Nancy Mercer

Steve and Bethany Pelletier celebrated Steve's birthday with his parents in Biddeford on March 18.

Alder River Grange will meet at Stan Howe's home on Broad Street for a 6 p.m. soup or corder and 7 p.m. meeting.

Millie Jackson will celebrate her birthday on March 27.

Kip and Leslie Krichko and children of Connecticut visited Florence Hastings on March 16.

Carl and Dori Hallman and children, Heather and Whitney, of Durham visited Arlene Harrington on March 17 and 18.

Seems conditions must be close to good for tapping sugar maples now. The snow sure has been melting and setting down.

Sunday River Valley

by Rockie Graham

Spring is in the air. So are the winter grumbles. The sun is shining, the days are growing longer and warmer, but people do not seem happier. I see anger, depression and midwinter illness being rampant. Not that I'm much better, but I think it's time to think spring, begin planning gardens and to enjoy what is left of this winter.

Having said all that, I know we still have some struggling left. The frost heaves grow daily. Vehicles begin, again, to get airborne here on the road and elsewhere. Ever increasing holes proliferate and cars cry out in pain. Many of us are and have been scrambling to keep wood in our stoves. But cheer up; by the time you read this, it will officially be spring.

For those of you who have asked, my dad is doing better. He is out of intensive care and convalescing. That is all that can be expected.

The snow here is decreasing daily. I can see out of most of the kitchen window, and all but one piece of wood has been stacked or burned. That piece remains frozen to the ground no matter how often I hit it with a sledgehammer. It, too, will succumb, soon. For now, Tasha has not learned not to get stuck on it and can, although she is quite capable of unsticking herself. When I am home she prefers to whine.

Tomorrow I am, maybe, off for my much promised and delayed snowmobile ride. I know I could get brave and just take one out myself, but I do not trust my hand to be able to hold on that tightly. If this winter has shown me anything, it has shown that I cannot depend on the ability of my right hand. In any case, I am excited to be going. The day promises to be the warmest in the week.

Don't forget that Bethel Area Poets Society meets this week at Café DiCocoa. Members of the Rumford group are hoping to join us. That will start at 7 p.m.

That is all for this week. Be careful in Friday's promised snowstorm and remember "Think Spring." The weather will get better and the days do grow longer and warmer.

Mason Township

by Richard Grover

Eileen Flynn, Don and Elsie Aylward's daughter, presented them with a new granddaughter on March 14 at 1:59 p.m. The new arrival checked in as a full-fledged toddler, weighing a full 10 pounds, 4 ounces. Naming the new one took a couple days, as Eileen and Chris, the proud new dad, were getting professional advice from their three-year-old daughter, Madison, who initially insisted on "Lucy" as her new sister's name. Then Madison changed her mind a couple times. They finally agreed on Lucy Dawn Flynn as the handle for the new bundle of joy.

My big sister, Verna Thayer, flew to Bryson City, S.C. for the weekend on a short visit with her favorite (only) granddaughter, Tracyn. Tracyn and her husband, Norman Greenburg, are the two outdoorsmen who participate in those grueling 300-mile "adventure races." Tracyn and Norm gave Verna airline tickets for Christmas. At the same time, Verna's son, Skip, drove to Mason to stay with Dewey while she was half way across the country. Skip's son, Matthew, decided to spend his spring break from college in Mason as well, arriving in Boston on Sunday, a few hours before Verna flew back into Portland. Consequently, Verna and Dewey had a busy week, with all the visiting.

Mona and I decided to spend some of our grandkids' inheritance last week. We bought a new pickup truck, the first full-size and the first new truck I have owned. We love it, but found it almost too big for our garage doors. The top clears the garage door by a good one-half inch, while the outside mirrors clear the sides of the door by two inches, or so. If we get a cap put on, it will never get through the door. Well, I guess you can't have everything.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The State Police have been keeping a close watch of traffic on Route 2 in the Hanover area. Some speeders have found that to be true. We have even seen trailer trucks pulled over.

The Hanover Town Office will be closed Wednesday, March 28, because of a license plate class that is taking place in Norway.

Bob Brown reports that his knee is feeling better since he started going to therapy.

Late birthday greetings go to Jim Ray in Austin, Texas, and we all wish him the best with Pimpmobile III.

Katty and Michael Brenner and their three sons have been tapping trees in the neighborhood, and they report the sap is running good.

Faye and Derek Souve traveled to Rhode Island last weekend to visit relatives.

The newly proclaimed snow dump at South Shore Road has been deemed useless because the area already has abundant supplies of snow. It has been a daily and sometimes hourly job to keep that portion of the road plowed this winter. There is so much snow along the road that visitors in June will likely see piles of it.

Those with a suspicious nature are asked to keep one eye open. It has been learned that a giant rooster will soon appear. When and if it shows up is anyone's guess.

H.A.L.T. That is the acronym for "Howard Pond's Awesome Ladies Team." Their mission is the control, training and above all else the refining of the notorious bunch, "The Howard Pond Good Old Boys." They are planning a meeting for open enrollment. Any of you "old girls" who would like to join, be sure to call the president and founder to reserve a seat. Officials have been notified that there may be a need for traffic control. This is all planned for April 1. Unknown is the meeting place and time or the phone number to make a reservation. If someone from H.A.L.T. will contact us, we will try to get it in print before April Fool's Day.

Kaylin Milligan, a first-grader at A.E.S., is in Maine Medical Center, Portland, with viral pneumonia. Cards, prayers, flowers, anything to help a very ill little girl would be very nice.

Birthday celebrants this week include: Leon Akers on the 24th, Kasey Smith on the 25th, Lynsey Brown on the 26th, Caleb Hurd, Paul Nevel and Ellie Freeman on the 27th, Betty Lozier and Naomi Learned on the 28th, and Linda Jodrey on the 29th. Happy birthday everybody.

Andover Public Library notes — Janet still needs volunteers for Story Hour; please call if you have time. Many new books, videos, and books on tape have arrived recently. The best one I have read so far is John Grisham's newest. It's not his usual lawyer thing; it's really good. I think the title is "The Painted House." Please remember to return books you have borrowed. You can leave them at the library at any time. Just put them in the book bag on the front door. If you need to renew, just call 392-4148 anytime. Janet listens to her messages faithfully.

Andover Grammar School notes — There won't be any school on March 23. There is a school board meeting on the 27th at Telstar High School.

Agnes and John Foster's son, David, and a guest, Kelly Willis, from Georgia visited over the weekend. Thirteen-year-old Kelly had never experienced snow as we know it. I guess, from all reports, she had a blast skiing at Sunday River, a really cool snowball fight, and sinking up to her neck in snow. She is probably very glad to get back to the 60- to 70-degree weather they are having in Georgia right now.

Paula Poor McDonald from Gilford, N.H., visited with her family recently to help her dad, Junior Poor, get "all tapped out." We are referring to maple trees you know.

I watched "Lorna Doone" on A & E last Saturday night. It was very good. I had read the book several times when I was a lot younger, and now I have a problem that is driving me crazy — who wrote it? Guess I'll have to make a trip to the library tomorrow and try to find out. If they have a repeat performance, it's really worth watching.

The following are a few "Hill-billy Medical Terms" that might amuse you: benign, what you be after you be eight; bacteria, back door to cafeteria; cat scan, searching for kitty; enema, not a friend; G.I. series, world series of military baseball; out-patient, a person who has fainted.

The word for the week is French — soiree. Look it up. See ya.

Call to worship at Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wight's was held Sunday, March 11, at 9 a.m., with Pastor Rodney Hanscom and daughter Nancy at the organ. The message of the day was "Forgive them Father, For They Know Not What They Do" from St. Luke 23:34. "And they parted his raiment and cast lots." A prayer was said, hymns sung, benediction and postlude, Amen.

All about catnip — catnip is a delicately perfumed herb with heart shaped, downy-hair leaves that look as if they have been coated with blowing dust. It can be planted most anywhere there is sunshine and adequate moisture. Your cats love it.

All about comfrey — three thousand years ago, the Greeks, in their wisdom were using comfrey and it wasn't long before it was entered into the very earliest catalogs of medicinal herbs. Comfrey is used for varicose veins and almost every ill of mankind — broken bones, dysentery, diarrhea, stomach ulcers, bleeding hemorrhoid, or other internal bleeding. Comfrey root tea is good for lung trouble. It is good for almost anything, either as a tea or a poultice. Comfrey is rich in calcium, potassium, phosphorus and other minerals. The leaves contain vitamins A, C and B-12, and also allantoin that strengthens skin tissues and helps heal ulcers. I could write another page about comfrey. No wonder the old-timers knew and used it. Want more on it?

Katie Wight celebrated her 17th birthday Sunday at the home of her parents, Brad and Brenda Wight, with family and friends present.

During Career Week, Katie Wight will work in the Pharmacy at Rite Aid.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

My candidate for "Bird of the Year" is the beautiful saw-whet owl on the front page of The Citizen last week. Junior Poor from Andover, who has seen many saw-whets, will surely agree with me. I started carving one a few years ago. The project came to a standstill when it began to resemble a mosquito.

Spring is here. Maybe you didn't notice it very much but it arrived on March 20. Don't pay no never mind because it arrives in Upton around Mother's Day.

Several people have called saying that they have seen robins. Sylvia Gray saw one in Newry in February but was afraid people would doubt her sanity if she mentioned it.

Oh, the snow. We have so much snow. Sometimes it's so beautiful and sometimes it's so depressing.

David Hill and his family, from Concord N.H., visited Upton several times during school vacation. David and his lovely wife, Maureen, are Carolyn Taylor's niece and nephew. They love seeing the deer and the winter beauty. They also love skiing at Sunday River.

Congratulations to Steve Wight on his reappointment to LURC. If it ain't broke don't fix it.

Spring is really here even if you don't believe it. On the way to Colebrook I saw several maple sugar operations being activated.

A good time was had by all at the St. Patrick's celebration at the Errol Pub.

One of my favorite feathered friends is the ruby crowned kinglet. Watch your feeder. There have been some seen in Upton. This bird isn't around very much during the winter, but evidently they are beginning to move north. Some years ago I had one that stayed all winter. It is a tiny little bird very much like its species brother, the golden crowned kinglet. Evelyn Kenney has one of these every year; it is greener than the ruby. It has a narrow white eye ring. The gentlemen have a tuft of red feathers on their crown which only shows when the bird is excited. Its habitat is in the pine and spruce forests in summer and in any protected thicket in the winter months. This nice little fellow sings his way north. It's very loud for such a tiny bird. Keep your eyes open; they are heading north and may stop at your feeder.

Happy spring, wherever it happens to be.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published here by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

You know it's been a long, hard winter when you have to issue the kid who shovels your walkway a 1099 Misc. tax form.

It was only a few short months ago when people were saying we'd be much healthier if only it would snow. I'm not sure where that myth came from, but there is the belief that there is less disease when there is snow on the ground. And snow on the ground we have.

It wasn't long ago that the snowmobilers and skiers were bemoaning the lack of snow. My son bought a new snowmobile in the fall and by Christmas he still had not been able to use it. Well, I hope he and the rest of the winter sports people are happy because the way its gone since January, they will be enjoying their sport well into June.

Personally, I'm not into any form of winter recreation so I'm tired of all of it. I welcome "Global Warming", but I'm beginning to think that is all a hoax. All I have to do is look out my window and I can tell you there's no "Greenhouse Effect" in my back yard! There is just snow - lots of snow. It isn't even all that dirty because at least once a week fresh clean, snow falls keeping everything a pristine white.

Enough is enough. This winter is dragging on so long that my long Johns are starting to wear out. The oilman comes so often he's now part of my family. I spend so much time in flannel my skin is turning plaid.

I'm ready for spring and it better get here pretty quick or there's no telling what might happen. The Easter Bunny might have to resort to snowshoes. Easter egg hunts in the snow can't be that much fun. The Easter parade might have to be held on snowmobiles and I think it would look a little stupid wearing bonnets over helmets.

I don't want to see snow anymore; I want to see daffodils and green grass. I want to feel the warmth of the sun on my face. I want to wear clothes that don't itch.

I guess I'm starting to suffer from "Winter Doldrums," but I can tell you I'm not alone. People in a state of "Winter Doldrums" can get pretty nasty. Just the other day I noticed two women in the supermarket beating each other with loaves of bread. A lady I know complained to me that she couldn't stand seeing those orange pumpkin leaf bags sticking through the snow where people have left them out on their lawns. She said every time she sees one of those ugly jack-o-bags she wants to dig it out of the snow and haul it away.

This lady is not a violent person or even aggressive, but she had fire in her eyes and in her present state I sure wouldn't push her. I wonder how kindly she feels about all those folks who still have Christmas decorations outside their houses. I promptly went home and took the brown wreath off my front door just in case.

I know this tension and crankiness is all part of the "Winter Doldrums" and too much snow. I've been pretty tense and cranky myself lately. I'm sure that when the snow finally melts my foul mood will improve, but until it does I'm going to complain.

I'm going to complain about the snowplows that bury the end of my driveway right after I've shoveled it out. I'm going to complain every time I plan to go somewhere and have to cancel because it's snowing and the roads are too slippery. I'm going to complain every time I have to climb over a waist-deep snow bank to get into my office. And even though I don't have any small children, I'll complain for those who do and have to spend 20 minutes getting the little buggers dressed in boots, snowsuits, hat and mittens to go outside only to have them back in 10 minutes to go to the bathroom.

I'm going to complain because I'm spending more time with a snow shovel than I am with my husband. I'm going to complain because basically there is nothing else I can do.

I can't make it stop snowing. I can't afford to go south to a warmer climate and as much as I'd like to, I can't even hibernate and sleep it off until warmer, dryer days.

The way I see it I must be geographically mislocated; I'm sure I was supposed to be born in Barbados. But I wasn't, I was born in Maine and here I'll stay. At least spring, according to the calendar is now here and things are bound to get better - that is if the roof doesn't cave in from all the gosh darn snow!

though these small happenings may be called naught, I personally think they amount to a lot." (Stanley F. Bartlett)

Snow now covers the ledges and icicles make fringes along the edges. These resemble countless jewels sparkling in the sun.

Nature weaves a jeweled spell all over the open land when the year closes. Sometimes there is sadness when the last page of the calendar appears. Perhaps this is because we are reluctant to let go of the known and to face again the unknown. But now comes a new promise; beautiful sunsets and frost flowers. I hope I will be able to walk again among the new revealed secrets of the new season.

I have very little for news. I don't walk outside at all, alone.

My nephew, Dale Mills, from the island of North Haven, and his wife, Marcia, came to see me one day last week.

It is nice to have visitors and to get in touch by mail.

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

Judith Grover Tent 17 Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met on Monday, March 12, at the home of Alice Hoyt with 11 members present.

Items discussed were the senior citizen dinner on April 5, essay contest for fourth-grade students at Woodstock Elementary School and the sale we usually have in May. We may only have food sales sometime instead. The Maine marker at Gettysburg needs replacing, and we should write a postcard asking to get Bill LD841 passed for funds to endow the maintenance of the Maine Civil War monuments at Gettysburg. Twenty-eight calls were made. Tiffany Jordan won the mystery package. Delicious refreshments were served by Elsie Bonney and Sally Sawyer. The next meeting will be at the Grange Hall and Michelle and Helvi Cary will be on refreshment committee.

Attention — Whitman Memorial Library has new hours: Tuesday and Thursday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Wednesday and Friday 12 to 4 p.m. They are looking forward to your visit.

Patch the Pirate Club and prayer meeting are at 6:30 p.m. at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church on Wednesday evening. Sunday services are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 4:45 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. There will be a spring Bible conference with Dr. Wendall Heller on April 1 to 4.

Telstar seniors who have a grandparent or great-grandparent that graduated from Woodstock High School may apply for a $50 scholarship at the Telstar guidance office.

Maurice and Cecile Lescault recently spent the weekend in Montreal. The weather was beautiful but cold and the Notre Dame Basilica was fabulous. They did a lot of underground shopping and a lot of walking on St. Catherine Street. It was an Alpine Tour and everything was planned. They stayed at the Whydham Hotel, which was very nice. They had a ball.

Annie really missed getting out, so the Lescaults decided to take her shopping before the storm. She had a grand time. They went to the Chick-a-dee for lunch, which was very nice, Annie's treat. Then they went to Shaw's, Ames and Shop 'n Save. They really shopped until they dropped. Maurice brought them flowers as usual. Then for the unpacking. Even though they were tired, Annie said it was a beautiful day to ride and shop. They rested the next day during the storm.

Don't forget the Town Meeting on Monday, March 26.

The Woodstock High School Alumni Association will have a meeting on Tuesday, March 27 at the home of Alice Hoyt. Come help plan the banquet.

This is a quote Curator Larry Billings made up, "New England has the patina of time." He says we are all a part of history in a sense. Thanks to Kathleen Bean for writing an article on Birchmere and Mary Billings for typing it for The Sun.

Larry notes his typewriter is not working, so he may not be able to do any more one-page newsletters for a while. He has given the Historical Society a clock, a cast iron horse and wagon, a cobalt blue globe and a brass and glass table.

His recent donations to the museum should keep it competitive for quite some time.

Thanks to Larry Bonney for plowing and Paul Billings for doing so much shoveling this winter. The Historical Society makes us aware of the contributions of previous generations.

Ethel Davis and sister, Edith Deegan, have just spent a month in Summerfield, Fla. with their cousin, Lorraine Davis. They left the 12th of February and returned the 13th of March.

While they were there, Ethel spent a night with Muriel and Bob Croteau. Ethel also spent a couple of days in Daytona with her friend, Norma Berry. She said the weather was excellent all the time they were there and they didn't miss the snowstorms at all.

Pete Appleby is working around 40 hours a week at Sunday River Skiway.

Duane Ryerson has been out walking quite a lot since his heart surgery last month.

Woodstock Town Meeting is coming right up. Be sure to attend.

Don't forget to make suggestions for the Whitman Memorial Library. Boxes have been placed at the Town Office, Breaux's and the Village Store. All suggestions are welcome and will be considered.

Lots of folks have been heading for the warm country. Kellie and Brad Record have left and will be visiting with Neil and Carol Hall in Florida for a week. Carol and Neil are moving back to Maine on April 2 permanently.

Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the March meeting of the Society featured a video on Maine. There will be a silent auction at the next meeting. Thanks to the officers and members of the Society for all their work this year. The Society notes Mary Billings and Kathleen help people with research. Kathleen also writes some articles for the papers on history. Did you like the picture of the livery and stage in the Citizen? Curator Billings loaned them a number of old photos to copy. The museum has a good collection of tapes and videos to use. Channel 10 has given a lot of the latter. Much thanks. Curator Billings has a good educational background for what he does.

West Paris

by Bertha DeHaas

A beautiful, sunshiny, warm (52 degrees) March 20 — the first day of spring. I have never been so glad to see spring in all my 65 years. It has been a truly long and difficult winter, this year in more ways than one.

First off, I wish to thank all my town friends, relatives, church, grange, and legion friends for being there for me when I really needed you — for all the cards, flowers, food, phone calls, visits and just plain caring. You will never know just how much this has truly meant to my family and me.

This next Saturday, March 24, at 7 p.m. we would like to invite you all to the West Paris Baptist Church for a Bluegrass Gospel Concert by the Leclaires, featuring Phill and Ellen Leclaire and Denny and Dave Knightly. For more information, please call Bruce Tynner at 674-2968.

See you next week with much more news as I get back into the swing of things again.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers. Can you believe it? March 20 was the first day of spring. It sure doesn't look it with all this snow. I always said I wanted good snow banks in the winter weather for when driving on the roads in case I slid across the road. Well, we sure have them now. But take heart — we can't get much more — or can we? Many people are concerned about their roofs caving in or leaking with so much snow on them. We just have to be smart and take care of it.

It was good to see the Rev. Diane Wood and husband, Rich, at church last Sunday. They filled in while the Rev. George Froberg was away. I enjoy her sermons and his piano playing and singing. They are moving away from the area soon but hope they will come back to see us. I believe they are from Rumford and are going south.

I got a nice surprise yesterday. Daughter Sharon Traish from Arlington, Mass. called and said she and her sister, Cheryl Barnard, from Seaford, Va. plan to come to visit us later this month. It's always nice to have the kids come home to visit.

Several people from town are planning to go to Wilsons Mills to Nelson's camp this weekend. I've heard that the snowmobiling is just great now.

Boy Scout Troop 155 from Lovell camped out at Farrington Pond recently. Some of the boys built snow shelters and stayed in these overnight, and some stayed in tents. The boys went skiing, snowshoeing, and ice fishing. They said the food was good, especially the beef stew and dumplings. The boys got up early Sunday and attended Scout Sunday at the Lovell United Church of Christ, their sponsoring organization.

Scouts that camped out were Joel Barker, Philip Remington, Sam Rollins, Brian Burney, Ethan McKenney, Stephen Mead, Jeremiah Miller, David Mead and Jacob Markee. I hope I haven't missed anyone. They all had a real good time.

Girl Scout cookies are being delivered now. Goodness — what are we going to do with so many? The Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts are good organizations to help and sponsor. They do a lot of good work with the kids and for them. The parents and leaders are to be commended.

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19, don't forget the meeting this month at the home of Eleanor Smith at Waterford Acres at 7 p.m. on Thursday, March 22.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

Another cold, snowy, windy week for our area. The school children have enjoyed three snow days lately. Hopefully, they won't have to go to school for the whole month of June. Monday we were promised a good day, so Beryl Bonney and I hurried to Auburn for groceries, to stock our pantries. We then enjoyed a lunch at a Chinese restaurant before heading home.

The church service at the Universalist Church on March 25 is, "What Did You Do to Celebrate the Vernal Equinox?" What do you guess your ancestors did 100 to 1,000 years ago?

On Thursday, March 22, at 7 p.m. the Universalist Church board will meet at the home of Bob and Cil Rice.

On Monday, March 26, Goodwill Fellowship will meet at 6 p.m. for a potluck supper at the home of Joy Gasta. Each member is to bring a dollar gift in a bag for the grab bag table at the next church sale.

On April 7 at 5 p.m. the West Paris Grange will hold a public supper of casseroles, baked beans, salads, desserts and coffee, tea and punch. Admission is $5 and $2.50 for those under 12. Please come and enjoy a good meal and help the Grange.

The West Paris Grange's annual spring sale will be held on May 15. If you would like a table, contact Kathleen Holden at 674-2975. The charge is $5 per table.

The West Paris Library has just received new books and they are ready for the public to enjoy.

The Craft Group met with June Demarest and sewed and tied quilts. Those present were June, Beverly Stevens, Georgia Thayer, Edith Morey, Joyce Lamb and Joy Gasta. The hostess served tea and brownies. What a beautiful ride up Curtis Hill. Several mountain ranges are in the distance. Next week will again be with June to continue work on the quilts.

and Arlene Lowell. Jane and Ginny discussed the trips and the cost of the bus. Car pooling was also discussed, but the majority wanted to go on the bus. The door prize was won by Connie Elliott and the raffle, which was a pair of dolls made by Louise Twitchell, was won by Wilma Gorman.

The next meeting will be April 11 at the Madison Restaurant in Rumford. The meeting will start promptly at 11 a.m.

The speaker was Bob Schuesler, who talked about his years at the Fashion Institute Technology in New York. It is a two-year college of fashion and design. He met stars like Bill Cosby, Alan Alda, Brooke Shields and other celebrities and also Calvin Klein, the designer. It was very interesting to listen to him.

The birthday cake was made by Nina Wheeler of the Rebel Rec Restaurant.

March birthdays are: Alberta Angevine, Muriel Butters, Polly Davis, Geraldine Howe, Mildred Jackson, Mary Keniston, Betty Perkins, George Westleigh, Pauline Wieden, Judith Webster, Maxine Wright and Marna McGinniss.

Inanna, Sisters in Rhythm

Inanna, Sisters in Rhythm, a six-piece, all women percussion ensemble will perform on Saturday, March 24 and Wednesday, March 28 as the season finales in the Black Diamond Family Entertainment Series at Sunday River Ski Resort. Curtain time for both shows is 7 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Grand Summit Hotel.

African rhythms form the basis of Inanna's inspiration. The ensemble plays traditional African percussion instruments such as the djembe, kpanlogo, djundjun, kenkeni, sangba and other handcrafted instruments like the balaphon (an African xylophone), kaliba, skekeres and a variety of bells and other small instruments.

Inanna takes their name from an ancient Sumerian goddess, who held reign more than 4,000 years ago during a period when it is believed drummers and dancers were predominantly women. The ensemble chose the name of this ancient goddess to express their ties with an ancient musical tradition.

As a group, Inanna members have studied percussion with Karamo Sabally of Gambia, West Africa; John McDowell of the Afro-jazz fusion group, "Mamma Tongue"; and Ya Ya Diallo, master drummer from Mali and the author of "The Healing Drum."

By using the sounds of voices, drums and percussion instruments from all around the world, they have created a symbiotic sound that appeals to people of all cultural and social backgrounds.

Tickets for these family events are $3 for children (12 and under) and $5 for adults in advance or $5 and $7 at the door. For reservations or information about tickets, please call 824-3575.

on "Sylvester Marsh and the Cog Railroad." Dr. Paul Frederic of the University of Maine at Farmington will speak on "Canning Gold: The Rise and Fall of the Sweet Corn Industry in Northern New England" on Oct. 11.

The final lecture will be "Reflections on the Past 75 Years in Bethel" by Margaret Joy Tibbets on Nov. 8. All lectures will be held at the Regional History Center and begin at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge and all interested persons are welcome.

With a membership of over 1,200, the Bethel Historical Society is one of Maine's larger historical organizations. Founded in 1966, it established its Regional History Center in 1999 and provides a broad range of historical activities relating to the Northern New England past, including publications, special events, workshops, lectures, courses, exhibits, and school programs. For the quality of its activities, the Society has received both state and national awards. It operates a period house museum, research library, and museum shop that are open throughout the year.

More information may be gained by calling the Society office (207) 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or use the e-mail address: (bethelhistory@ctel.net). Its Web site is found at (www.ctel.net/~bethelhistory).

We are happy to welcome her to our great team.

The 9th annual Megalink Mountain Madness Alpine Derby was held last Thursday at Sunday River Ski Resort and was a terrific day for all.

Congratulations to the following winning teams: the Ski Depot team for the Alpine Overall Fastest Time; the BIG Adventure Center team for the Mixed Alpine Fastest; the Sunday River Ski Resort team for the Fastest Ski Resort team; the Sudbury Inn team for the Fastest Chamber team; the BIG Adventure #2 team for the Best Guess Time team and the Mahoosuc Realty team for the Fastest Locals' Challenge team.

Congratulations to Mike Bröderick for winning the grand prize of the Rossignol skis.

Many thanks to all our corporate sponsors: Megalink, WCM, Inc, Shipyard Brewing Co., NorthCenter Foodservice, Hawthorne Investment Management, Chalmers Insurance, Goodwin's Insurance, Dow's Law Office, P.A. and Hancock Lumber Company.

Many thanks, also, to the event volunteers, in-kind sponsors, and the prize donors who are listed in the accompanying thank-you ad in this week's paper.

Special thanks to Sunday River Ski Resort for hosting the event and to our event chairman, Dave Conary.

Our next major event is the 32nd Annual Awards Dinner, scheduled for Friday, May 4, at the Grand Summit Hotel at Sunday River. We will be accepting awards nominations through Monday, April 2nd — please get them to us by then.

Maine, local X-C skiers win

By LINDA GAMBLE

The Maine State Cross-Country Ski Team — with several members from Gould Academy and Telstar High School — won the Volvo Eastern High School Cross-Country Ski Championships this past weekend at Black Mountain in Rumford.

The competition included teams from Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York. Skiers raced in sprint, classical, freestyle and team relay events.

Maine edged Vermont by a final score of 15,574 to 15,403.

Among competitors representing Maine were Justin Hautaniemi, Chris Leonards and Kyle Rogers of Gould Academy, and Fred Bailey, John Reuter, Brian Zinchuk, Sarah Gamble and Heather Zimmerman of Telstar.

Hautaniemi was the top finisher among the local racers, placing eighth in the sprint, sixth in the classical, sixth in the freestyle and second in the team relay. (The other local racers' results appear in the sports results section.)

The championship is the culminating event in the East for public and private school skiers, including members of the New England Junior Olympic Team. Each state qualifies 20 young men and 20 young women for the three-day series.

Skiers must qualify for their state team under state criteria. Maine skiers raced at Sugarloaf in early March.

Crescent Park School!

Budding kindergarten scientists Dominic Haines & Brody Brackett work to assemble replicas of dinosaur skeletons in conjunction with their science unit.

The three kindergarten classes at CPS recently participated in a State of Maine Poster Contest.

THS student Megan Lunney reads to CPS students during Read Across America Day.

Kindergarteners in Mrs. Sabin's class are hard at work writing in their daily journal. The children write anywhere from one to five sentences in each entry.

Crash Course in Leadership

Michael Sabin of Andover, attended the National Youth Leadership Forum on Defense, Intelligence and Diplomacy (NYLF/DID) from February 20th through February 25th, in Washington, D.C. Having demonstrated academic achievement and an interest in a career related to national security, Sabin joined more than 350 outstanding high school juniors and seniors from across America at the conference. Students learned first-hand about national security, diplomacy and global defense systems.

A 1930s VIEW OF THE MAPLE LUNCH and the gas station opened by Jesse Chapman in 1931 is seen on Railroad Street. In the 1940s, the gas station was converted to a gun shop by Robert and Mary Billings. Later it was razed by Albert Sumner. The Maple Lunch building became "The Snack Shop" when it was purchased by Charles and Mary Keoskie. Currently, it is a rental property owned by Albert Sumner. This photograph is one of thousands that can be found at the Bethel Historical Society, which also possesses an outstanding collection of manuscripts, books, documents, and artifacts relating to western Maine and northern New Hampshire. The society is currently raising funds to establish its Regional History Center on Broad Street and the 1821 O'Neil Robinson House, which now houses exhibit galleries, offices, and the museum shop. Completion of this project will provide for improved storage space and greater access to collections as well as rooms devoted to educational activities, genealogical and historical research, and traditional crafts. Once the center is fully operational it will offer an expanded series of lectures, special events, conferences, courses, seminars, and publications. To learn more about this project, call the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or use the e-mail address Bethelhistory@ctel.net or visit the web site at www.ctel.net/~bethelhistory

A September 2001 wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Jon Ochtera

The wedding of Caroline Ann Brown and Jon Michael Ochtera took place on June 24, 2000 at St. John the Baptist Church in Brunswick with the Rev. Edward Sheehan, S.M., performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Keith and Joyce Brown of Harpswell. The groom is the son of Jack and Jeani Ochtera of Bar Harbor and Bethel.

The maid of honor was Catie Butt of Newton, Mass., with Marlies Ouwinga of Bethel and Jacki Schriber of Stowe, Vt., as bridesmaids.

The best man was Rob Ochtera, brother of the groom from Park City, Utah. The ushers were Tim Brown of Shrewsbury, Mass., brother of the bride, and Brent Arvidson of Canton, Mass.

The bride graduated from Mt. Ararat High School in Topsham and St. Michael's College in Winooski, Vt. She was employed by American Ski Company in the marketing department and is presently employed by Citadel Broadcasting in Portland as a recruitment specialist.

The groom graduated from Duxbury High School, Duxbury, Mass., and attended St. Joseph's College in Standish. He formerly was employed at the Sunday River Brew Pub and occasionally coached for the Gould-Sunday River Ski Development Program. He is presently employed at 420 Enterprises in Portland as manager of the State Theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ochtera reside in Old Orchard Beach.

Card of Thanks

The family of Rev. Gordon T. DeHaas wishes to express their heartfelt thanks to the following people and organizations for the kindness and caring during Gordon's illness and when he recently passed away. Tri-Town Ambulance crew for endeavors above and beyond the call of duty, Stephens Memorial Hospital nurses and emergency room staff for such good care. Rev. Bruce Tyner, Jim Veatch, Tom Standard, Evelyn & Ruth Chamberlain, Pat & Fred Breame, Cindy Johnson, Anna Swan, Fran Haney, Nancy Penley, Phyllis & Ted Travis, Sue & husband, Sandy & Dave Broberg, Wayne & Peggy Theofrastau for prayers, helping to take care of Gordon, for food brought in and just plain caring.

Especially Bruce Tyner & Wayne Theofrastau who tried so hard to revive Gordon on February 6th.

Also, thanks to all of our Church, Grange, Legion, Masonic, Town friends & relatives for their cards, flowers, calls & caring at the time of Gordon's death.

In Christian love,
Bertha DeHaas
children & grandchildren

Card of Thanks

A sincere "thank you" to my friends and relatives for the prayers, flowers, visits, telephone calls and food brought in, while in the hospital and since my return home. It was all greatly appreciated.

A special "thank you" to my brother Ralph for his concern and for doing my daily duties. GOD BLESS YOU ALL.
